Will You Marry Me?

Vonda Shepard

I guess you sunk in, oh yeah you made it in
Now I'm fumbling somewhere deep within
Will I raise my glass or will you kick my ass?
Or will we fall down laughing, laughing?I know love is pain, I know your life's insane
I want you anyway, I'll probably complain
Why would I subject myself to this kind of disaster?
A respectable ball and chain is all you're really afterBut I'm tumbling inside this reeling feeling coming over me
Will you ever decide? So unrevealing, will you marry me?Strange behavior from my savior
You yank me up and down just like a yo-yo
Do you love me? You're an anomaly
Or maybe you are just unbelievably ordinaryWhy would I subject myself to this kind of disaster?
A respectable ball and chain is all you're really afterBut I'm tumbling inside this reeling feeling coming over me
Will you ever decide? So unrevealing, will you marry me?
I'm tumbling inside, I'm happiest when you are next to me
But I'm still on the outside am I obsessed or will you marry me?
