Why I Lie

Liz Phair

If you ask me why I lie to you
I can tell you I don't know myself
It's amazingly dishonest

But I'd have to recognize it as part of myselfStraighten up, why can't you straighten up?

I've heard you tell me this

So many times

It doesn't even stickI get it all the time

I get it all the time

You know I love to make

A joke of itAnd if you ask me why I hurt you

I don't understand it, I can't help myself

It's a special combination

Of predatory instinct and simple ill willI would give some thought to it

If I thought that it might do me

Some good, some goodStraighten up, why can't you straighten up?

You always say I'll lose

Control of it

And thirty is not too oldWell momma, I would give some thought to it

If I thought that it might do me

Some good, some good

Some good
