What Gets You Through the Night

The Audition

Tried to find both my life and my love
Took the time to write down all my thoughts
Thought that I need to let go of these, let go, oh, let go
All of my worthless insecurities'Cause I've got the tendency of dancing away
At anything alarming and soCan you, will you at least attempt to stay now?
Just turn around, I'll make you break through
Never betray you and now I know that I can't go back
On all those promises I shredded
But can you, will you at least attempt to stay now?Wonder why, why it's taken so long
To step back and admit all of my wrongs?
Always gave everything you had to me, everything to me
Tell me why I continue abusing?My insecurities have taken away
What I consider charming and soCan you, will you at least attempt to stay now?
Just turn around, I'll make you break through
Never betray you and now I know that I can't go back
On all those promises I shredded
But can you, will you at least attempt to stay now?Whoa, I'll never tell you why I do those things I do
Whoa, oh please just show me some understanding, baby
Whoa, just trust my soul that I, I'm trying, God, I'm trying
Oh, to let you know that I have tried to tell youThat my insecurities have taken away
What I consider charming and soCan you, will you at least attempt to stay now?
Just turn around, I'll make you break through
Never betray you and now I know that I can't go back
On all those promises I shredded
But can you, will you at least attempt to stay now?'Cause I've got the tendency of dancing away
At anything alarming and so
My insecurities
