Gonna Be Alright

Kj-52

The sun will set, the sun will rise
But it seems like I'm barely gettin' by
With the crushing weight that I keep piling on

You know alone I just can't stand
'Cause you see me and know who I am
And in You Lord, You know I'll find that strength

'Cause I know, yes, I know
That this world is leaving me dry
And I know, yes, I know
That with you it's gonna be alright

Sometime it feels like my hands are tied
And they're bound together with strands of lies
And these things I told myself I can't deny

Oh, fallin' honest taught me well not to
Just keep relying on myself but to live for You
'Cause You only want the best for me

'Cause I know, yes, I know
That this world is leaving me dry
And I know, yes, I know
That with you it's gonna be alright

'Cause I know, yes, I know
That this world is leaving me dry
And I know, yes, I know
That with you it's gonna be alright
