Endless Imitation

Duologue

You nearly gave me a heart attack
Had no time to react
You canâ€™t just go and walk in like that

I was making my way down the line
Beating tracks killing time
No place to go just a lot of signs

You were the only real thing I could find but I know that given time Iâ€™ll move on Iâ€™ll be fine and Iâ€™ll find Someone new who ill love as much as you
And all the memories we made will be replaced by other days
Ill forget you but I donâ€™t want to Life by fixed principles no ifs ands or buts

We wrote down the stories and forgot we made them up
And its just it seems we never get to choose never win never lose
And soon itâ€™s just following soon,

But I felt the same the same as you
And I know that given time Iâ€™ll move on Iâ€™ll be fine and Iâ€™ll find Someone new who ill love much more than you
And all the memories will fade and be replaced by other days
And ill forget you but I donâ€™t want to

You nearly gave me a heart attack
No time to react
But I canâ€™t just let you walk out like that
