

236 E. Broadway

Gob

It seems so tough sometimes
When you face a day with back to back conflict
When you get pushed around
You might stand your ground Might end up on your back
But when you fall do you benefit and talk about it?
When you fall do you get back up with your head above you?
When you fall? I choked back tears last night
Sitting alone in a restaurant, thinking
How did I get so low?
How did I manage to sink to the bottom?
