

Abandoned by Heaven

Graveworm

In the land where the angels fly hear the distant echos - enchanted songs and the throne of heaven lies far away in the distant sky I see a flame that burns in the night in the silent of the endless time - I'll ride a howling wind across the sea turning black the sky and the light creature of the night - hear them cry as the wolves howl to the night the ruins glow in the dark I sailed the darkened way to the twilight land arrive the birth of a new dawn and another age has come alone in the forest of shadows without one path to go at the path of my faith I was left alone walking through deep snow struggling against the wind a silent snow in your head therefore you must die a lightning strikes from the darkened sky a bloodred sign appears in the night the evil has arrived - the raven flies surrounded by the screamings of pain the ancient demon of forgotten realm the nights of incubus - seduced by the dark Soon to be entombed in the soil the secrets behind the black endless void swept away by the mortal the demon has arrived - arise from the sleep fearful thoughts with hate in his eyes arrives from the darkened sky Born again in twilight myth with wings siled in blood again his wrath shall rule the genesis of death
And fight for revenge rising up from the flames
