Abandoned by Heaven

Graveworm

In the land where the angels fly hear the distant echos - enchanted songs and the throne af heaven liesFar away in the distant sky I see a flame that burns in the night in the silent of the endless time - I'll rideA howling wind across the sea turning blavk the sky and the light creature of the night - hear them cryAs the wolwes howls to the night the ruins glow in the dark I sailed the darkened way to the twilightland arrive the birth of a new dawn and another age has come alone in the forest of shadows without one path to go at the path of my faith I was left alone walking through deep snow struggling against the wind a silent snow in your head therefore you must dieA lightning strikes from the darkenes sky a bloodred sign appears in the night the evil has arrived - the raven fliesSurrounded by the screamings of pain the ancient demon of forgotten realm the nights of incubus - seducted by the dark Soon to be entombed in the soilThe secrets behind the black endless void swept away by the mortalidethe demon has arrived - arise from the sleep fearfull thoughts with hate in his eyes

arrives from the darkened sky

Born again in twilight mythwith wings siled in blood again his wrath shall rule the genesis of death

And fight for revengerising up from the flames
