Point Of No Return (1995 Digital Remaster)

Gene McDaniels

I see a big moonlight in the distance
The violet sunset over the seaYour word is so shriek, i make up my mind
I got a warning, beware of nightIn seeking after the real meaning of life
I fought through thousands of wars
I've lost my way
The past is the past
And all my moaning and
Groaning will not bring it backI do something to prove myself again
My heart is burning
It's like a flame
The night is coming
The moon is so bright
I can't get the scene out of my mind
In seeking after the real meaning of life
I fought through thousands of wars
I've lost my way
The past is the past
And all my moaning and
Groaning will not bring it backLook up the sky
We just see
Sign of the hope
The sun came shining through the clouds
The light has captured all of our hearts
We're at the point of no return
Into the heat of the night
We'll see the fact
Pride goes before a fall
The light has captured all of our hearts
We can irradicate the truth of the world
In seeking after the real meaning of life
I fought through thousands of wars
I've lost my way
The past is the past
And all my moaning and
Groaning will not bring it backLook up the sky
We just see
Sign of the hope
The sun came shining through the clouds
The light has captured all of our hearts

We're at the point of no return
Into the heat of the night
We'll see the fact
Pride goes before a fall
The light has captured all of our hearts
We can irradicate the truth of the world
