

Back To The Start

Burn Halo

Down, Ive been down on myself
I know there's a light, but I just cant tell
Which way that I should run,
After all that I have done
Which road did I take, to get so far away
From you You cant remember my face
The truth, it gets so hard to take and You keep giving me chances
I keep breaking your heart
I wish there was a way we could do it all
Over again
Get back to the start Ive been looking for a friend
In places I never should have been
I stood there on the edge
You tried to pull me in
I keep dealing with the pain
It seems to never end You cant remember my face
The truth it gets so hard to take You keep giving me chances
I keep breaking your heart
I wish there was a way we could do it all
Over again
Get back to the start This wasnt the way it was supposed to be
How can I see you if I cant see me? You keep giving me chances
I keep breaking your heart
I wish there was a way we could do it all
Over again
You keep giving me chances
I keep breaking your heart
I wish there was a way we could do it all
Over again
Get back to the start
