Amaranth (Orchestral)

Nightwish

Baptized with the perfect name
The dawning won by heart
Alone, without himselfWar between him and the day
With someone to blame
In the end lil he can do aloneYou believe on what you see
You receive on what you giveCaress the one
That never-fading rain
In your heart
To tears of snow-white sorrow
There is the one
That hiding Amaranth
In the land of the day-braveApart from the wandering path
In this brief flied up time
We reach for the ones who ever dareYou believe on what you see
You receive on what you giveCaress the one
That never-fading rain
In your heart
To tears of snow-white sorrow
There is the one
That hiding Amaranth
In the land of the day-braveReaching, searching
For something untouched
Hearing voices of the never-fading callingThere is the one
That never-fading rain
In your heart
To tears of snow-white sorrow
There is the one
That hiding Amaranth
In the land of the day-brave
