

Almost Honest

Josh Kelley

Advisory - the following lyrics contain explicit language:

So in the meantime
You'll be resting on my mind
For the last time
I would leave myself behind In the evenings
Raise a glass and tell some lies
Make a pass, impress another girl
She was easy on the eyes She was easy
And so was I My reflection
In the window when I ride
For Chicago
She is on the other side Take a picture
Write a letter to my love
Well, I was almost honest
I was almost honest Been a long time
Since I've lay with you in bed
Conversations
Full of words you never said I got your message
But I didn't hear the ringing bell
I gave into the loneliness
But I didn't give them nothing else Which direction
Down this highway that I ride
To Atlanta
She is on the other side Take a picture
Write a letter to my love
I was almost honest
Well, I was almost honest
Yeah, oh My reflection
In the window when I ride
Could not save us
But I swear to God I tried Take a picture
Write a letter to my love
I was almost honest

But I was almost honest
'Cause I was almost honest
