

Wears So Thin

The New Amsterdams

White lines come undone
Like a calm summer sea
But all these creatures
They've been watching meMidnight by candlelight
Just my heart in a spoon
All my insides howl at the moon
The music begins, violinsThe sad state we're in wears so thin
Tattoo covers needle bruises
Like I won't ever know
Long sleeve shirt sleeves, like it's twenty belowGlass eyes don't recognize
Like you can't even see
You say these monsters
They've been watching me

Songwriters

Matthew Patrick PryorPublished by

LILIAN SOPHIA Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>