

Don't Be Fooled

Heavenly

Have you ever wanted to have a fight for the one you love?
Want someone to shout at, instead of to shout a, shout a, shout about.
Have you ever needed somebody to shake you up?
Have you ever wanted to see, how much he'd bleed,
If you kicked him in the teeth? Have you ever wanted to be amused by the one you love?
Want someone to laugh at, as well as to laugh a, laugh a, laugh about.
Have you ever shouted "Surprise me, surprise me!"?
Have you ever wanted to sigh, and say goodbye,
Just to see how much he'd cry. Oh when the one you love's
Not the one that you've been dreaming of.
Oh when the one you love's
Not the one that you've been dreaming of.
Don't be fooled by dreams. Does he ever ask you if he is always in your dreams?
And you answer slyly, "Why do you think I wake up smiling?"
Do you ever wonder if dreams could be for real?
Have you ever wanted to dream, and make-believe, that you've got him on his knees? Oh when the one you love's
Not the one that you've been dreaming of.
Oh when the one you love's
Not the one that you've been dreaming of.
Don't be fooled by dreams. Oh when I wake up smiling,
Sometimes I think that dreams can all come true.
But then I wake up screaming, screamin', screaming for you. Oh when the one you love's
Not the one that you've been dreaming of.
Oh when the one you love's
Not the one that you've been dreaming of.
Don't be fooled by dreams. Don't be fooled by dreams
Don't be fooled by dreams
Don't be fooled by dreams
Don't be fooled by dreams
Don't be fooled by dreams
