Just Forget My Name

So They Say

I was the one who would stay
Just in case you've forgotten my face
I'm gonna make you regret you didStill said I hate how you pretend to be on the inside
But still as a statue
(Still as a statue)
Undiscovered and undercover
A dying lover is all you knew
(Is all you knew)I'm alive and it feels like I've been ripped away
From anything that haunts me at night
And I'm alive and it feels like so many times before our eye
Wish you would have just forgot my nameJust wanna tell you that I've know you've been faking
Like the stars at night there's no mistaking you
The earth shakes, separates and reads a score
(A score)I'm alive and it feels like I've been ripped away
From anything that haunts me at night
And I'm alive and it feels like so many times before our eye
Wish you would have just forgot my nameThis is what I hold inside and this is why I pray
The reason why I never find the words I wanna say
And this is why I'm getting out, can't take another day
This is why I know I've caught you, find a better wayI'm alive and it feels like I've been ripped away
From anything that haunts me at night
And I'm alive and it feels like so many times before our eye
Wish you would have just forgot my name
