Letting Go

Antiskeptic

And he dreams
Another atmosphere
Evaporated fear
A place inside that he dreams and knows too wellLetting Go
A new reality
The light reflecting in Revealing lock and key
Inside his prison cellIt's a dream he often fails to tell
School is way too ordinary for him
The reason is for change inward self
But it will never go away
But it will never go awayAnd he dreams
A place of barrenness
Echoing emptiness
The thought deniable but finds it clear and wellLetting Go
Token of clarity
Transact the memory
Holding the docket of the time that he let goLetting Go
I'm breathing in and out your emptiness
And I sighed I'm so misunderstood
Well I know you're leaving
Believe me
I can't believe that
I once believed in you
