It's Complicated

A Day to Remember

Here we go again, another night of being bumped
I can tell myself, avoid the sun
And cancel plans with everyone
I know, 'cause its just how it always ends
Our bond will break 'cause you can't relate
To anyone, to anything at allYou brought your worst and I'm right here
No ones seen it all, it's never been so clearYou're not the person that I knew back then
It's all to late to set things right
'Cause everything has been
You're not the person that I knew back then
Lets try and act like this didn't happen,
Follow your friends like you ever had themYou still know me,
Still not cut out for this sort of thing
Never want to be, caught in between
I need constant reminders of everything
So what!
It's who I am, I played it off so well
I was holding in, no matter how I've been, so nobody,
Nobody can tellYou brought your worst and I'm right here
No ones seen it all, it's never been so clearYou're not the person that I knew back then
It's all to late to set things right
'Cause everything has been
You're not the person that I knew back then
Lets try and act like this didn't happen,
Follow your friends like you ever had themI won't sleep till the break of dawn
(Break of dawn)
Cant let our problems find me here
So everybody come onYou brought your worst and I'm right here
No ones seen it all, its never been so clearYou're not the person that I knew back then
It's all to late to set things right
'Cause everything has been
You're not the person that I knew back then
Lets try and act like this didn't happen,
Follow your friends like you ever had themYou're not the person that I knew back then
It's all to late to set things right
'Cause everything has been
You're not the person that I knew back then
Lets try and act like this didn't happen,
Follow your friends like you ever had them
