Lucky Man

Jerry Jeff Walker

Jerry Jeff WalkerI woke up this morning feelin' like a million bucks
Looked over on the pillow, there lay my lady love
And I thought how much we'd grown to love the life we chose to live
Ain't it funny how things fall in line, when you take what life givesMusic people tell me I need to write more sad love songe
But me and lovely Susan get stronger as we roll along
We let the rain roll off our windows, we let lovin' warm our rooms
And after all we've lost and found, I'm more in love with youAnd all the songs I hear these days, they've got no give and take
The lovers always make the same mistakes
But love will ask a man to find a way to try and work it out
Love can please you, but if it leaves you
It can turn you inside outSo I guess I'll go on counting all my lucky stars
'Cause all the lucky people are the ones who really know they are
You can't have what you want unless you dare to see things through
And I got what I wanted on the day we said I doRepeat First Verse
