Cold War

Marsha Ambrosius

Chorus
This is a cold war we're fighting
And neither one of us wanna surrender
Love we're slowly dying
This is a cold war we're fighting
And if you even cared at all
You wouldn't start this cold war
Love is a war zone
We're standing in the middle
Yes we are baby
You draw your weapon as i'm loading up my missle
With no one to save us
Guess you keep your guard up hoping I climb over
Every time I do
Guess we're both to stubborn
To say we're hurting so we stay
When it's probably best to walk away
Chorus
This is a cold war we're fighting
And neither one of us wanna surrender
Love we're slowly dying
This is a cold war we're fighting
And if you even cared at all
You wouldn't start this cold war
I loved you then, you hate me now
Why can't we stand our ground?
You say it's me but I blame you for who we are right now

One thing about you is you don't think I love you
But I do, thats nothing new Cause we're both to stubborn to say we're hurting
So we stay, when it's probably best to walk away
Chorus
This is a cold war we're fighting
And neither one of us wanna surrender
Love we're slowly dying
This is a cold cold war we're fighting
And if you even cared at all
You wouldn't start this cold war

I'm banging on the walls,
I'm going through withdraws
You got my head spinning like a coaster
I'm throwing out your clothes
I'm changing all the codes
I'm about to send you right back to your mother's
I think I'm running out
I've been having doubts
I wanna leave you but you make me stay
So you can't have this hold over me
Chorus
This is a cold war we're fighting
And neither one of us wanna surrender
Love we're slowly dying
This is a cold cold war we're fighting
And if you even cared at all
You wouldn't start this cold war
