I Want to Take You Home Tonight

Rivers Cuomo

I want to take you home tonight
And lay you down beside the fire
I've never seen your face before
I probably won't see you no moreI hope I find another girl
That thinks that I am lovely too
But they don't make those kinds of girls
And so I cry from me to youThis is another New Year's Eve
And I am happy with myself
I like to disco on the floor
I probably won't see you no moreIf all I take from this ordeal
Is to sit down with you and feel
And tell you that I love you so
I probably won't see you no moreDon't go, I want you to stay
I need you to stay and hold me
Don't go, I want you to stay
I need you to stay and hold me
