Goodnight Goodbye

John Newman

As soon as the doors slammed
And silence that fell
Was all that you left me
With a story to tell
But I'll take your hands and as chance
Then I'll smoke with youI tried to find the truth
And I ain't there with you
I never listen, I never listen
All the things you said
I'll never hear again
I should've listened[Chorus]
Don't say goodnight
Know your love didn't mean goodbye
We just watched it burn
Know we could've kept going by
I should be loving you
I should be loving youYour makeup on my sheets
Your clothes on the floor
The photos that I'll keep
How we were before
Before I took you for granted
Before the memories were tornI tried to find the truth
And I ain't there with you
I never listen, I never listen
All the things you said
I'll never hear again
I should've listenedDon't say goodnight
Know your love didn't mean goodbye
We just watched it burn
Know we could've kept going by
I should be loving you
I should be loving youIt's time to confess, I'm doing my best
But this time I won't get it wrong
It's time to confess, I'm doing my best
But this time I won't lead you wrongDon't say goodnight
Know your love didn't mean goodbye
We just watched it burn
Know we could've kept going by
I should be loving you

I should be loving you
