

Time Was

Wishbone Ash

B. Feldman Co., Ltd./ Glenwood Music

I've got to rearrange my life,

I've got to rearrange my world.

I miss you, I need you. I've got to keep my memories aside, I've got to try to live again. Time was, when there were things around, to be afraid of.

I'd die 'cause I couldn't change my mind and turn the tables. Time was, when there was no need to stop and rearrange it.

Now I've got a memory.

And I don't want to change it. And there's a time for waking up, and feeling down.

That's when you have to pick your feet up from the ground. Time was, when I had you around,

I was a strong man.

I need you, to help me make the change and be a new man. It takes more than a day and a night for giving.

It's not so easy, to just change your way of living. Time was, when there were things around, that bothered me.

The crime was, I couldn't start to change my history.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>