

The Moment

SafetySuit

From when I wake in the morning till I go and
And I fall asleep each night
I fight to hold onto a love that is inside
Because my past is like a nightmare that I never can escape
And I can't wait till I wake up so I can fall back asleep And I dont understand what happened between you and me
But you will probably end up with someone half as good as me
So I dont care if you want to look in my eyes and say hello
You were blind to me, now Im blind to you, no So now I wait for a moment when I know that theres no one left to see
All the hurt thats inside me and the reason that I need
I need to let go of the things, I see that have always let me fall
And I cannot find my way home, no, because Im already home And I dont understand what happened between you and me
But you will probably end up with someone half as good as me
So I dont care if you want to look in my eyes and say hello
You were blind to me, now Im blind to you, no Blind to me, blind to you And I dont know what you need but I know youre listening now
And I dont care what you think because you didnt think to care about me
And I dont know what you need but I know youre listening now
And I dont care what you think because you didnt think to care about me And I dont understand what happened between you and me
But you will probably end up with someone you know that is half as good
So I dont care if you want to look in my eyes and say hello
You were blind to me, now Im blind to you, no You were blind to me, now Im blind to you

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnlyrics.com/>