Together

Keith Moon

Life isn't easy when two are divided and one has decided To bring down the curtain, but one things for certain
There's nothing to keep them togetherHow does it happen, that two can be tender
And one be the lender of love and emotion
That covered the ocean of sadness that kept them togetherLove will start with you, it is easy to measure it
Bury a treasure in it it's not an adventure
It's more to be certain that it had to be shared togetherLove when it's growing is full of surprises
Its temperature rises from higher to higher
And then turns into fire which has to be shared togetherLove when it's growing is full of surprises
It's temperature rises from higher to higher
And then turns into fire which has to be shared togetherHow does it happen, that two can be tender
And one be the lender of love and emotion
That covered the ocean of sadness that kept them togetherIn my life I love you more

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/