Sleepwalker

Milk Inc.

It doesn't feel right,
To see the daylight,
If you're not here,
If you're not here with me.

In my sleep, I can still hear you,
In my sleep, I can still feel you,
Every word you say, echoes yesterday,
But you turned and walked away.

Every day feels just the same,
But even so, too much has changed,
Since you're away.

It doesn't feel right,
To see the daylight,
If you're not here,
If you're not here with me.

In my sleep, I can still hear you,
In my sleep, I can still feel you,
Every word you say, echoes yesterday,
But you turned and walked away.

Every night I sleep alone,
Nothing makes me feel at home,
'since you're away.

It doesn't feel right,
To see the daylight,
If you're not here,
If you're not here with me.

In my sleep, I can still hear you,
In my sleep, I can still feel you,
Every word you say, echoes yesterday,
But you turned and walked away.
