

Stealth

Joe Sullivan Quintet

Below these planetarium skies
I run towards you
The horizontal bungy pulls me back
Though I adore you They say that we will never know it
Unless we surrender to it
There are signs everywhere
Telling me that planet Earth is just one big trip Held hostage in a dream
Following a shadow of a shadow
Held hostage in a dream
Following a shadow of a shadow Have I ever truly loved?
Does the rain and sun sprout seeds of stealth?
I'm waiting patiently for the day
When I let the world turn by itself Till the moment when I'm dancing like no one's watching
Please don't depend on me
I see it differently
But I'm always grateful when another soul believes in me Held hostage in a dream
Following a shadow of a shadow
Held hostage in a dream
Following a shadow of a shadow Held hostage in a dream
Following a shadow of a shadow
Held hostage in a dream
Following a shadow of a shadow Held hostage in a dream
Following a shadow of a shadow
Held hostage in a dream
Following a shadow of a shadow
