

No Reason

Grinspoon

If you got the rhyme and you got the reason
Somebody outta really tell you
That you've run outta all your answers
And the lines are on the table But you could go down so low
No one'll ever hear you call
I've got no reason You could have had all of my love
I'd give it straight back if its enough
I need you to see that youre the one for me Could've tried all the time to tell you
That you've run outta all your answers
Its not really ammunition
Its a cause for a celebration But we could go down so low
No one'll ever see us fall
I've got no reason You could have had all of my love
I'd give it straight back if its enough
I need you to see that youre the one for me I've got no reason
I've got no reason
I've got no reason
I've got no reason If you got the rhyme and you got the reason
Somebody outta really tell you
That you've run outta ammunition
Its a cause for a celebration But we could go down so low
No one'll ever hear us call
I've got no reason I've got no reason
I've got no reason
I've got no reason
I've got no reason
