

Black Leather and Glittering Steel

Riot

We drank 'til the sunrise
Rode away singing Johnny's back again
Maybe I'm wrong
Maybe I've really just been away too long
There a few who remember
Fewer still who remember why
They ain't still ready to fight
But I've had the world at my feet
And I know it's right
I wanna crawl from the wreckage again
Feel the kiss of twisted metal
Like a drink running hot in my veins
I've got a score to settle
Black leather and glittering steel
They're calling me back
So I'm turning my head to the wheel
Black leather and glittering steel
I'm thirsty for more
So I'm sending my foot to the floor
Look like nobody's buying
Looks to me you can't go home again
So I'm riding alone
Maybe the lights are on but nobody's home
So long to my brothers
Later on once again you're left behind
Are you lashed to the mast
Or will you drown in the chair
Where I found you last ?
I wanna feel the wind in my face
And the velvet and shimmering limousines
Like a kiss from the 'Queen Of The Damned'
Like the smell of gasoline
Black leather and glittering steel
They're calling me back
So I'm turning my head to the wheel
Black leather and glittering steel
I'm thirsty for more
So I'm sending my foot to the floor
I wanna crawl from the wreckage again
Feel the kiss of twisted metal
Like a drink running hot in my veins
I've got a score to settle
Black leather and glittering steel
They're calling me back
So I'm turning my head to the wheel
Black leather and glittering steel
I'm thirsty for more
So I'm sending my foot to the floor

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>