Reelin

Iration

Needle on my compass is spinning
Imagination is winning
Can't get my head right
I get the feeling that I can't get back Night driving, no headlights you've got your reasons
And I know you've got your seasons
But I'm still getting lost with you
But something in the way ya turned your back makes me wanna try to push throughWoah ya got me feelin right
And I know that you're staring out your window at night.
I'm staring back at you
Too many times I've walked away without telling you now I'm telling you
You've got me reeling
High can touch the ceiling
I'm losing my mind and I don't even know the reason
Another way to say that I can't waste another day of my life without hearing your name
Cuz I'm lost up in the light
Sleepless nights
Waiting for the day when I can catch that flight
Another way to say that I can't waste another day of my life without hearing your nameSkip back to the day try my best not to lose my way
Details are kind of fuzzy but the feeling still remains we met we talked I stared too long you walked now discombobulated and I don't know what to say Ooh baby baby you take me on a ride and I know that I'd be lonely here without my foolish pride and I'm waiting waiting running circles in my mind just to get another chance to tell youWoah ya got me feelin right
And I know that you're staring out your window at night.
I'm staring back at you
Too many times I've walked away without telling you now I'm telling you
You've got me reeling
High can touch the ceiling
I'm losing my mind and I don't even know the reason
Another way to say that I can't waste another day of my life without hearing your name
Cuz I'm lost up in the light
Sleepless nights
Waiting for the day when I can catch that flight
Another way to say that I can't waste another day of my life without hearing your name
