

Strange Pursuits

Devo

intersecting love lines drew us closer every day always kept your distance when you felt my presence near you love keeps on rolling over you'd fly in retreat i would follow without shame a stupid spud staggering to the flame to be had and rehad an innocent victim of the pain now it's strange
it's a strange pursuit
i come running like the fat boy in lead shoes like the fat boy i'm huff puffing after you it's hopeless to hope for the one thing that i'm wanting 'cause it's strange
darling i'm dazzled but you know i'm too frazzled i've taken my mind apart and lost some of the pieces it never gets tough when you're gettin' real rough
