When Love Was Something Else

Conway Twitty

While she stands there starin in a mirror
He lays there, sleepin through it all
She cries deep inside where he cant hear her
And turns to hide the tears when they fallThe years have only come between them
Memories fill the empty time thats left
But it only hurts her more to remember
When love was something elseShe combs her hair then quietly fluffs her pillow
As she lays down, she turns off the light
She collects her thoughts and listens to the silence
While she lays awake alone again tonightAnd the years have only come between them
Memories fill the empty time thats left
But it only hurts her more to remember
When love was something else
When their love was something else

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/