Long Way Home

Threshold

I thought that you were driving or never thought to ask
All the while you left me in control
Somehow I'm surviving it doesn't seem so hard
'Cause I'm not on this journey all aloneAnd I know the way I'm feeling but I just can't find the wordsI go my own way down I fall again
I see the sunrise only taste the rain
What you remind me I already know
Unless I follow every road with you
I take the long way homeYou weren't supposed to find me I tried so hard to hide
I never thought you'd want to track me down
I thought that you disowned me every time I strayed
I guess I had it all the wrong way roundAnd I know the way I'm going but I just can't find the roadI go my own way down I fall again
I see the sunrise only taste the rain
What you remind me I already know
Unless I follow every road with you
I take the long way homeAnd I know that I believe you but I just can't keep the faithI go my own way down I fall again
I see the sunrise only taste the rain
What you remind me I already know
Unless I follow every road with you
I take the long way home

Songwriters
RICHARD LANSDOWNE WEST, NICK MIDSON, JON JEARY, KARL GROOMPublished by Lyrics Â© CONEXION MEDIA GROUP, INC.

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/