Behind Every Corner

Sinnergod

I can feel you crawling on my skin
All the hate inside still haunting me within
You promised that you'd wait with me
And in the end you never woke me up
Someone help me pleaseEveryday it always feels the same
I'm holding you to blame
Round and round again
Creating circles in my brain
Falling from the strain
I heard you call my name
It feels like I am running to my graveI call your name to say
Your memory is haunting me againI can feel you underneath my skin
Until the hate inside is cutting me within
You promised that you'd stay with me
But in the end you always f*d me up
Someone help me please!Everyday it always feels the same
I'm holding you to blame
Round and round again
Creating circles in my brain
Falling from the strain
I heard you call my name
It feels like I am running to my graveEveryday it always feels the same
I'm holding you to blame
Round and round again
Creating circles in my brain
Falling from the strain
I heard you call my name
It feels like I am running to my graveI call your name to say
Your memory is haunting me again
