

How Will I Sleep?

Lee Rogers

Spend my life like a dog chasing the rain
Or I could take my time and reacquaint myself
I could go on pretending to know
Or I could stop this struggle that's making me fall
How will I sleep? There's a fine line between my love and my fear
You gaze in awe at what I'm straining to see
And I've been told that when I'm weak and alone
I will be strengthened and carried
How will I sleep
How will I sleep Here's what I wanna say, here's what I wanna say
My head betrays me, my heart gives me away,
My head betrays me, my heart gives me away
Gonna find me a church, I alone will worship there
I'll find the Silence that comforts me
I'll taste of religion partake of my own pride
Hear the enemy laugh at me through the night
How will I sleep
How will I sleep This desert so hot, but it gets so cold here at night
At the edge of the Jordan cleaned by the light
This desert so hot gets so cold here at night
At the edge of the river poised for the fight
At the edge of the Jordan.....

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>