

Begin Again

Andy Shauf

begin again
this time you should take a bow at the very end it's quite an act you put on wait til the cameras roll you're the leading man in a film where the end of the world is decided by you whenever you choose oh from the sky a brilliant light will dissolve us all
begin again
and tell me all about the one that you love and all about the other one that you've got on the side i don't give a damn about you fooling around behind sherry's back it's just the one that you found is the one that i need oh from the sky a brilliant light will dissolve us all listen to this halfwit spilling his guts after a bottle of wine thought this would be a good time now i can't finish my drink let him laugh it off hey it's a city the size of a dinner plate it's hard not to overlap what could you expect oh from the sky a brilliant light will dissolve us all now i'm kicking leaves cursing the one that i love and the one i don't i wonder who you're thinking of Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by <https://damnllyrics.com/>