Inner Fear On

Biohazard

See the future, hate being unsure
Feel insecure, life without a cure
Invade my body like it was your own
A losing battle when challenged aloneI'm sick and tired
Of losing someone I love and admire
I'm fucking tired
Of losing someone like youHow can you feel it unless it happens to you?
Watching someone suffer, there's nothing you can do
Sit and wait with love and hate, emotions, they destroy
I question my faith, how can a God, how can a God take?I'm sick and tired
Of losing someone I love and admire
I'm fucking tired
Of losing someone like youHow can I worship a God who takes life away
And leaves nothing but pain that never goes away?
I lie in bed each night, struggle to fall asleep
Memories in my head, I pray my soul to keepTried and true, I get up everyday and say
Life's too short, no time to look the other way
Gotta face what's inside, I gotta do away
With all the feelings behind my frozen heart, I prayI'm sick and tired
Of losing someone I love and admire
I'm fucking tired
Of losing someone like youI'm sick and tired
Of losing someone I love and admire
I'm fucking tired
Of losing someone like you
