

Tom Saw Ya (Parody of "Tom Sawyer")

ApologetiX

On Monday he wouldn't trust
We'd seen Christ
Today Tom saw Your spear-pierced side Though his mind wasn't convinced
He couldn't doubt the evidence
He observed Your side and hands
Finding out the way we did, You're risen What You prayed about has come to be
It's what King David said in Psalm 16
Christ is risen: that's no myth
Just a mystery, that's legit The world says, the world says
Love and life are cheap
Maybe now the price will rise Today Tom saw Ya
He set eyes on You
And the face he just made
It was quite a view Thomas tried to talk and yet
"My Lord and God" was all he said
All he hoped for had just commenced
He knows graves are not permanent
But grace is And One You say is about to comfort me
Though some will question our sobriety
That's the witness, that's the gift
That's the spirit, class dismissed The world is, the world is Lost and like a sheep
They that have the Christ are wise Exit the Lord and yet today Tom saw Ya
He set eyes on You and he'll never be the same
He gets right onto the preaching of the way

Songwriters

Jim Matheos; Kevin Moore Published by PASSENGER SAFETY MUSIC

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>