Useless ID

I heard this story you were in it, don't know if it's true
Lately every song I've written turned out about you
I'd go all over town to find you're nowhere to be found
And when I'm done I'll end up sleeping still you're not around
Dreams are sending messages in bottles overseas
The note inside is saying "leave him girl, be with me"
You're afraid to disappoint me, teenage angst is here
Maybe you prefer a person that ain't so sincere
Dreams are sending messages in bottles overseas
The note inside is saying "leave him girl, be with me"
I've heard about it
The easiest way is to score
I am so sorry
But I feel I can give more to you
Can give more to you
Give you more
