Oblivion

Jerusha Rai

there I will laugh like a child and I'll sleep like a baby there I will be on my knees I'll be broken and holy and free there I will beat on my chest and scream there I will whisper my story

I will forget who I am
I will forget what I've done there I will start a fire I will sing around it there I will dance I will draw pictures in the sand there I will take off my clothes and there I will take off my masks and there I will dive in the water there I will see god

I will forget who I am
I will forget what I've done
