

I Can Change (London Session)

LCD Soundsystem

Tell me a line
Make it easy for me
Open your arms
Dance with me until I feel alright It's good in the dark
Good in the dark
But into the lover's light
Here comes another fight So ring the alarm, ring the alarm
Bar me and hold me and cling to my arm
Here it comes, here it comes And what you're asking me now
Disastrous now
Hoping and hoping, and hoping
The feeling goes away Never change, never change
Never change, never change
Never change, never change
Never change, this is why I fell in love, oh Never change, never change
Never change, never change
Never change, never change
Never change, that's just too up there in love with Oh, this is the time
The very best time
So give me a line and take me home
Take me over But dashing the hopes
Dashing the hopes
And smashing the pride
The morning's got you on the ropes, oh And love is a murderer
Love is a murderer
But if she calls you tonight
Everything is alright, yeah, we know And love is a curse
Shout in a hearse
Love is an open book
To a verse of your bad poetry
And this is coming from me But I can change, I can change
I can change, I can change
I can change, I can change
I can change if it helps you fall in love, in love I can change, I can change
I can change, I can change
I can change, I can change
I can change if it helps you fall in love, in love Turn on the light
Make it easy for me
Fill the divide

Fumble in the kitchen 'til it's right
What an awful sight But there's love in your eyes
Love in your eyes, love in your eyes
But maybe that's just your lover finds
All night And I can change, I can change
I can change, I can change
I can change, I can change
I can change if it helps you fall in love, in love And I can change, I can change
I can change, I can change
I can change, I can change
I can change if it helps you fall in love, in love And I can change, I can change
I can change, I can change
I can change, I can change
I can change if it helps you fall in love, in love And I can change, I can change
I can change, I can change
I can change, I can change
I can change if it helps you fall in love, in love
