See You

Miss Kittin

Three months old, hospital bed
Fighting hard for every breath
The doctor says, there's not much chance
Mom breaks down, oh, once againAnd I don't know, how I'm supposed
To see You standing here
Somewhere in this mother's tears
She cries because her nightmare's coming trueMaybe my faith's not that strong
Jesus, tell me that I'm wrong
But there's so much pain in this room
And I don't see YouFifteen years, man and wife
All it took was just one night
To break those vows and change their lives
Now they wonder if this is goodbyeAnd I don't know, how I'm supposed
To see You standing here
Somewhere in these lover's tears
Two broken hearts that don't know what to doMaybe my faith's not that strong
Jesus, tell me that I'm wrong
But there's so much pain in this room
And I don't see You, ohSometimes I want to turn my back
Shake my fists and run so fast
From everything I ever have believed
But on the darkest days I won't let go
It will still be well within my soul
Even when the answers don't come easily
'Cause You said You'd never leaveSo I know You're standing here
You've been crying these same tears
Yeah, You've been here all along
So give me strength to just hold on
Until I see You, until I see You
Until I see You, until I see You
