

End the Era

Sick of It All

Should be the end of an era
An era of control
That keeps minds lost in their identityThe power that exists alone
Should be finished, should be done
The suffocation can't go onChoke on the world
While just staring at the sun
A spoon fed zombie can't be discerning oneNever had the chance to be the thoughtful one
Never had the chance to break from being numb
Once and for allEnd the era, let it go
End the era of control
End the era, turn it offReach the ones who aren't lost
Should be the end of an era
An era of monopolyShould be stripped of all authority
Monopoly exists alone
Should be buried, should be goneA real effort never made
To get a special kind of look or thought or trait
The plain and obvious course is prearrangedThe opportunity to take the simple path
Without the knowledge that the straight away
Won't last, it just won't lastEnd the era, let it go
End the era of control
End the era, turn it offReach the ones who aren't lost
Let it go, let it go, turn it off
Reach the ones who aren't lost
