Your Voice

Anya

I hear your voice your voice in my headLike the rain i wash away my tears
There is no cure for broken heart like this
I can get away cause you're still running through my mind
When you start you are my only lightI hear your voice in my head, your voice in my head, your voice in my headLike the rain i wash away my tears
There is no cure for broken heart like this
I can get away cause you're still running through my mindWhen you start you are my only lightI'll do whatever it takes, to be with you again
I hear your voice in my head, your voice in my head, your voice in my headLike the rain i wash away my tears
There is no cure for broken heart like this
I can get away cause you're still running through my mind
When you start you are my only light
I hear your voice in my head, your voice in my head, your voice in my head
