Difference Maker (Live From the Woods)

NEEDTOBREATHE

Yeah, isn't it amazing how a man can find himself alone
Call into the darkness for an answer that he's never known
Yeah, isn't it amazing how God can take a broken man
Yeah, let him find a fortune, let him ruin it with his own two handsAnd he climbs on up the hill on the rock on which he stands
He looks back at the crowd
He looks down at his hands and he says
I am a difference makerOh, I am the difference maker
Oh, I am the only one who speaks to him
I am the friendliest of friends of GodYeah, isn't it amazing how a man can find himself alone
Call into the darkness for an answer that he's never known
Yeah, isn't it amazing how God can take a broken man
Yeah, let him find a fortune, let him ruin it with his own two handsHe walks on up the hill to the rock on which he stands
He looks back at the crowd
He looks down at his hands and he says
I am a difference makerOh, I am the difference maker
Oh, I am the only one that speaks to him
And I am the friendliest of friends of GodI am on the fence about nearly everything I've seen
And I have felt the fire be put out by too much gasoline
And we're all strangers passing through a place and time afternoon
Life is but a vision in a window that we're peeking throughA helpless conversation with a man who says he cares a lot
It's a passive confrontation about who might throw a punch or not
We are all transgressors, we're all sinners, we're all astronauts
So if you're beating death then raise your hand but shut up if you're not'Cause I am the difference maker
Oh, I am the only one that speaks to him
And I am the friendliest of friends of GodI am the difference maker
Oh, I am the only one that speaks to him
And I am the friendliest of friends of God
