Happy

Hilary Duff

I understand why you're looking for tears in my eyes
Trust me they were there but now the well has been dried
I was in so deep but couldn?t get out
I sat on feelings that I buried deep down
I knew there'd come a day when all past would cross
And I'm glad it's today 'cause now I am strong
I?m happy and I can thank myself
If it were up to you I?d be in my bed crying
But I?m happy and I know that makes you sad
After all the things you put me through, I?m finally getting over you
I?m happy, I?m happy
There's a reason why we met, I?m glad that we did
But when we broke up, I got back a part of me I really missed
Not saying that you brought me down all the time
There are moments I lived without light on my side

I?m happy and I can thank myself
If it were up to you I?d be in my bed crying
But I?m happy and I know that makes you mad
After all the things you put me through, I?m finally getting over you
All the bitterness has passed
And I only wish you
Someone who
Could do what I can?t
I?m happy and I can thank myself
If it were up to you I?d be in my bed crying
But I?m happy and I know that makes you mad
After all the things you put me through, I?m finally getting over you
I?m happy and I can thank myself
If it were up to you I?d be in my bed crying
But I?m happy and I know that makes you sad
After all the things you put me through, I?m finally getting over you
