

I & Thou

The Daredevil Christopher Wright

Woke up this morning I thought I'd been transformed
My body turned to seed
Grew up a wheat field hewn about the knee
And that's all I'd ever be I am looking for the thing in itself
Not healing but health,
The other not self
The I and thou And I am looking for the thing in itself
Not meaning but wealth,
A lover held jealously
The I and thou
Woke up this morning I thought that I could see
The veil'd been pushed aside
The cave wall shadows the whole menagerie
I turned and actualized I am looking for the thing in itself
Not healing but health,
The other not self
The I and thou
And I am looking for the thing in itself
Not meaning but wealth,
A lover held jealously
The I and thou
