

Lay Low

Alisha's Attic

Lay low, girlfriend
You ain't ever gonna be the right vibe
You ain't ever gonna kick the right drum
Better call it a day with this one
You ain't ever gonna be what he's looking for
'Cause he ain't ever satisfied, so lay low, simply lay low
Yeah, you can survive without another hero
Yeah, you can survive without another hero
If it's an honest kiss he's giving you, fine
But you're screaming to yourself every night, you're not satisfied
Lay low, girlfriend
If you want the upper hand
And if you want a little self respect
Better forget that he ever existed

And I guarantee you'll feel better
With all your cares away, so lay low, just simply lay low
Yeah, you can survive without another hero
Yeah, you can survive without another hero
If it's a fair game he is playing then that's fine
But he's taking the love you're giving him
And he's crossing the line, crossing the line
He's crossing the line
Lay
Got to lay low
And simply lay low
Just got to lay low
