

Broken Heart

Bee Hive

You're hiding from love
You see, you don't need it
 But if that were true
You could take it or leave it
Well, you gotta learn to walk
 But you're afraid of fallin'
 Off the line like a shot
 Then it's back to crawling
How can it stop if you won't let it start?
 I build it up and you tear it apart
It's so hard to love a girl with a broken heart
 I love a girl with a broken heart
 You still lickin' your wounds
 And girl, you're no stranger
 To blood, sweat and tears
 And a heart scared from anger
 We got a love that you find
 Maybe once in a lifetime
 But you can't hide
 From from a memory of the first time
How can it stop if you won't let it start?
 I build it up and you tear it apart
It's so hard to love a girl with a broken heart
 I love a girl with a broken heart
 How can it stop if you won't let it start?
 I build it up and you rip it apart
It's so hard to love a girl with a broken heart
 I love a girl with a broken heart
