

Right or Wrong

Reset

You were born american white the man on the screen says you've got the might the president's seat is open to you pray for a bit though you don't have a clue he's three months old batise him fast 'cause your decision might not last he loves boys oh my god what have we done that's not where he belongs take a look at yourself what has happened your values are wrong you think you're strong it's all in your head
 you were wrong
 you thought you were strong your parents have taught you the words you say you were wrong
 now you can't help but live their way in your household patriotism those stupid values can't leave the kitchen america's the best white conquers all that mentality will make you fall
