Bottom

Refused

Inch by inch we're loosing only more and more
Will we judge ourselves before we've lost it all?
Underrated statement in time passed by
We wouldn't recognize the truth if it laid before our eyesWe're drowning in our own incompetence, we're drowning
Somewhere, somehow there's a bigger scar
An infection of inconfidence, already gone too far
How badly do we need saving? Do you wanna know?The ultimate concussion, the final show
How does understanding begin, how can we help?
We can't even help ourselves
